

World War 2

On Friday 9th May 2008, Avenue House School had a world war 2 day. Everyone got to dress up as someone from that period of time. It was great! I dressed up as an evacuee, with a tiny checked suitcase and a label which said my name, destination and where I was from. At assembly we got to show our memorabilia that we have from the second world war.

Mr. Bartlett survived the second world war and came in to talk about rationing, and when he was an evacuee. It was very interesting! The photographer from the Ealing Gazette newspaper came to take a picture of us to put in the news. Mr. Bartlett has written a book about when he was an evacuee during the Second World War. I think you will find it very fascinating!
